

DEFENDERS OF THE CODE

KEEPING TENNIS FAIR AND FUN

Imagine a world within the Marvel Universe where evil and villainous tennis players threaten the existence of tournament and league tennis by attacking tennis players with their ruthless brand of poor sportsmanship.

Bad line calls, excessive foot faults, failure to call out the score when serving, and just an overall grumpy attitude and body language, these evil-doers threaten the essence of our sport. They threaten the traditions that call for good sportsmanship and fair play. They threaten The Code.

Who will defend good tennis players against this vicious attack?

Armed with their knowledge of The Code, an army of good and fair tennis players unite to fend off the attacks by the bad sports. These Defenders of the Code are true super heroes, going to great lengths to spread their love for tennis, bringing fun and joy back to our tennis courts.

Do you want to join these Defenders of the Code and stand up to the dark forces of poor sportsmanship?

Your training in becoming a Defender of the Code begins now. The first task is to find and study the USTA PNW Sportsmanship Handbook HERE and you are on your way to becoming a super hero on the tennis court!

Your mission, if you choose to accept it, is to spread your positive attitude and defend the Code for the benefit of all tennis players in your tennis universe.
